The AR4050S UTM Firewall consolidates threat protection, application and web control capabilities into a single device — ensuring the security of business communications. Together with advanced routing and switching, and a firewall certified secure by ICSA Labs, the high-performance AR4050S integrated security platform is the ideal choice for Enterprise gateway applications.

The quad-core processor delivers powerful performance, significantly increasing throughput and enabling simultaneous packet inspection. It is optimized for single-pass low-latency traffic inspection. Security engines and threat signature databases from the industry's leading vendors, with regular updates, provide up-to-the-minute protection against malware, viruses and other cyber attacks.
