aluminum finish, adding character that compliments any table or lectern.

Keep your cables out of sight

You can install the cable box into virtually any conference-room table or lectern to conceal up to nine of your AV, network or charging cables when they’re not in use. The box features a discreet brushed aluminum hide-away panel that discreetly integrates into your boardroom or classroom.

Connect when you need to

When you need to access one of the cables, you can simply slide open the cover panel, and connect the necessary cable to your laptop. When you’re finished, just slide the cable back into the box. The access holes at the bottom of the panel are engineered to let gravity do all the work, seamlessly guiding your cables back and concealing the cable below your table. You'll never have to worry about losing cables, plus, your cables won't tangled with each other.
