The Cisco Meraki Catalyst 9200L-24T-4G is designed to meet the demands of modern networking environments. With a switching capacity of 56 Gbps and a forwarding rate of up to 101 Mpps, it ensures efficient data management even under heavy loads. It supports up to 4094 VLANs and features advanced functionalities such as Quality of Service (QoS) and IGMP snooping, enhancing network performance and reliability.

Built for flexibility, this switch offers 24 ports of 1000Base-T connectivity and 4 Gigabit SFP uplink ports, facilitating seamless integration into existing infrastructure. Its stackable design allows for up to 8 units in a stack, enhancing scalability. With compliance to various standards, including IEEE 802.1Q for VLAN tagging, it ensures compatibility and performance across diverse network configurations.
