A4tech Bloody R73 Ultra is a dual-mode gaming mouse designed for responsive control and flexible connectivity during extended play. It combines wired and wireless operation with WaveLink connectivity and a USB wireless receiver to keep input reliable up to 10 m, while a included USB-C cable and Type-A adapter provide Plug-and-Play wired use.

Precision tracking and fast input are enabled by the Alpha 20K Engine and an optical sensor capable of 20000 cpi with realtime sensitivity switching, alongside a 1000 Hz report rate and high acceleration and speed ratings to support rapid cursor movements. Durable components such as micro-switch buttons rated for 30-million clicks, RapidSnap Rebound technology, and a braided cable contribute to a tactile, long-lasting gaming experience.
