100% compatible with today's laptop standards, the Laptop Ultrathin HDD features a SATA 6Gb/s connector. With 100MB/s sustained data transfer rate, the Laptop Ultrathin HDD provides easy design integration supported by the performance demanded for laptop applications and other slim storage devices.

Seamless Data Security

As our data becomes more portable it also becomes more vulnerable. Personal finances, social security numbers, business plans could all be compromised. Protect these assets with the Laptop Ultrathin SED option, which uses TCG Opal encryption standards for real time data encryption and enables easy drive retirement with Seagate Instant Secure Erase (ISE).
