Not only does this screen protector provide exceptional privacy, but it also offers outstanding protection for your device. The PanzerGlass® screen protector is made from flat tempered glass that covers the entire front surface of your tablet, featuring full silicone adhesive that is meticulously optimized to fit your screen perfectly while preserving 100% touch sensitivity. This means your tablet's display maintains its original touch and feel, ensuring smooth and responsive use.

The screen protector also comes with a smudge-free oleophobic coating, which resists fingerprints and grease, keeping your screen clean and clear. With enhanced durability, it protects your device from accidental bumps, drops, and everyday hazards, prolonging the life of your tablet and reducing the need for early replacement—an important step towards a more sustainable future.

Experience the ultimate combination of privacy and protection with the PanzerGlass® Privacy screen protector for your Microsoft Surface. Don't wait until your device takes an unfortunate fall—add to cart now and protect your screen with the trusted strength of PanzerGlass®.
