The basic model with easy handling.

If you would like to have a patented ergonomic mouse shape, and a short time to become familiar with using a vertical mouse model, then the Evoluent Standard Right is the best mouse model for you. It has two mouse buttons, a scroll-wheel, and a fixed DPI-value of 1500. With the Evoluent Standard Right you can work with a neutral positioning of your arm and wrist, and physical discomfort can be prevented. This ergonomic way of working will lead to more comfort and will increase your productivity during your workday.

Key characteristics.

The Evoluent Standard is a right-hand model for medium to large hand sizes. It is a wired mouse model with a cable length of 2150 mm. A long cable length might be advantageous for certain desk configurations. Otherwise, the cable can also be tied together. The Evoluent Standard Right is installed automatically and is immediately ready to use, thanks to its Plug & Play technology. Just connect your Evoluent Standard Right with the USB cable to your computer.
