The Mercury Tablet PC features a Dual Band Wi-Fi 802.11 a/b/g/n+ac. You can choose to connect to either a 2.4GHz or 5GHz wireless router. 2.4GHz routers are the most common, however, routers on the 5GHz band benefit from almost no interference. Although there is no difference between the speed of the bands, by accessing the 5GHz band you can enjoy a faster connection purely based on the lack of interference from other frequencies and other devices.
